Spring is Here!

The snow has finally melted from the valley floor and it's time to bring out the bicycle. This year I have taken on a new challenge with a charity that is close to my heart, I will be riding from Vancouver to Seattle in The Ride to Conquer Cancer benefiting the BC Cancer Foundation. This two-day cycling journey will be a challenge in a number of ways, but with my bike, my helmet and the support of friends and family I'm hoping a real impact will be made.

MARKET REPORT

Whistler Market Report

The first quarter of 2010 started well, as sales activity

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

April 9 - 11, 2010

Whistler Cup
presented by Rio

continued to build on the momentum created in the fourth quarter of 2009. As expected, real estate sales dropped significantly in the second half of the quarter while the Olympics and Paralympics took centre stage and commanded the world's full attention. Inquiries and interest in Whistler and the surrounding area remained steady however, and we expect this to result in an improvement in activity for all sectors by mid-year.

Today more than ever, buyers are ready to act when they find quality combined with value, so they continue to do extensive research to ensure that they are making the right decision. Presentation and pricing remain the single biggest factors for a successful transaction to occur, as buyers have a tremendous range of choices available to them in both Whistler and Pemberton.

Almost 90 per cent of the recent sales activity was on properties valued at less than $1,000,000, reinforcing that trend toward price and value. However looking ahead, continued improvements in consumer confidence will bring increased activity in the higher price ranges in the medium term.

May 1,2010

After years of preparation, hype and nail-biting anxiety, the 2010 Winter Olympic and Paralympic Games have come and gone in a flash of colour, cheerful chaos and the deafening roar of the crowds.

But it was an unforgettable experience.

From the triumph of Alexandre Bilodeau's first-ever Canadian home-soil gold medal, to the heroism of Joannie Rochette skating to the podium just days after her mom suddenly died of a heart attack - it was a Games to make all Canadians burst with national pride.

At the same time, the 2010 Games showed the entire world the distinctive beauty of Vancouver, as well as the spectacular glory of Whistler.

With the close of the Games, the resort now starts a new chapter in its illustrious history.

Originally born out of a desire to host the Games, Whistler has earned its awards and accolades, and will continue to evolve and grow as a unique, innovative and multi-faceted community.

For, as Bilodeau declared after winning the first Canadian gold of the 2010 Games, setting off a record-breaking medal run,

LOOKING AHEAD

As things return to normal in our resort town, Whistler Real Estate Company is already working on exciting developments, projects and properties that define the Whistler lifestyle.

Highlights of what WREC is currently working on, of course, includes Cheakamus Crossing - destined to become one of Whistler's greatest Olympic legacies.

Built as the official Olympic Athlete's Village for the 2010 Games, Cheakamus Crossing will provide affordable and environmentally sustainable housing for Whistler residents.

Developed using the Whistler Green Building Program, the units are located alongside the crystal clear, fast-flowing Cheakamus River, and offer exceptional, high building standards at affordable prices for Whistler's workforce.

WREC is also involved with the new Residences at Lakecrest development, featuring luxury lakeside and semi-waterfront living right on Whistler's historic Alta Lake.

Designed with the Whistler living experience in mind by renowned Burrowes, Huggins Architects, The Residences at Lakecrest offer contemporary and lavish West Coast interiors set amidst a tranquil lakeshore, all within minutes of ski lifts, golf courses and the resort's world-class amenities.

And that's only naming a couple of exciting developments...
